Anneliese

currents

Open your eyes...

...to witness the truth
An eternity of casting in the shadows all alone.

I am not here
I am not here

Nothing more than an illusion left in the back of your mind
But I never left
I never left...

Creeping into your thoughts, I become nothing more than a dream
As the days grow longer and nights get colder
You begin to fall

I creep in the depths
Never to be seen
You will become who you were meant to be
I am the nightmare that keeps you awake
Playing tricks on you, made to believe that nothing is wrong

Dragging you down into the depths
We have come to claim your soul

Your salvation is denied
Death has come
So embrace me
And descend.
