

Euphoria

currents

I can't explain what all of this means to me
The sound, the feel as it vibrates everything
I'm getting lost in my mind swinging back and forth to somethin g I can't describe

It consumes my life and I won't let it go
It is everything between you and me
There's nothing that can take it away
As I close my eyes and begin to dream
Letting the melody take me away, it's going to take me away
I lose myself to the sound of every note lifting me from the gr ound

I am free, and no one can take that away from me. [x2]

It consumes my life and I won't let it go
It is everything between you and me
There's nothing that can take it away
As I close my eyes and begin to dream

I can feel it. It just takes me away
Something I live for, I let it dwell in me

I can't explain what all of this means to me
The sound, the feel as it vibrates everything
I'm getting lost in my mind swinging back and forth to somethin
g I can't describe

It consumes my life and I won't let it go
It is everything between you and me
There's nothing that can take it away
As I close my eyes and begin to dream

It is all I see between you and me
It takes me away and sweeps me off my feet
To a place where I know, that I am home
I am free
