

Felt It Inside

Curtis Harding

I got a feeling, it's hard to explain
This not the first time, it's happening again
I'm out in the flurry, out in the black
Not in a hurry but I got to get back

'Cause

I'll be on my way back home
Coming home to you
I've been out here for so long
I'll be on my way back home
Yeah
I've been out here for so long

Whispering memories where I saw the stars
The shadows can linger, out here in the dark
Love twists and turns out from my way
With each step, I see the light of day
Wind that surrounds me, dispelling no fear
I'm not alone 'cause I feel you near
I was born for this, that's how I know
I'm coming home no matter where I go

'Cause

I'll be on my way back home
I've been out here for so long
I'll be on my way back home
I've been out here for so long

I've chased the horizon, the stars on my map
No mountain too deep, no bridge I won't gap
The love is a journey, I know that is true
I'm racing through shadows to get back to you

So here's to the moments lost and found
The rhythm of heartbeats, your love is profound
With each passing second I know I'll prevail
The love that we share is timeless as hell

I'll be on my way back home
I've been out here for so long
I'll be on my way back home
I've been out here for so long
