

The Power

Curtis Harding

Trouble don't last like it used to
And my joy comes faster
Rain don't feel like it used to
The sunlight feels better, well

Just live your life
And don't you give up now
There'll be sun
But we gon' dance it out

When your pain is released, and your love will increase
And the power will show, and your love light gon' glow
When the pain is released, and your love will increase
And the power will show, and your love light gon' glow

People will talk what they don't know
Don't worry what they say
Yeah, some take a lot and still want more
But don't worry 'bout that baby, yeah

Just live your life
And don't you give up now
There'll be sun
But we gon' dance it out

When your pain is released, and your love will increase
And the power will show, and your love light gon' glow
When the pain is released, and your love will increase
And the power will show, and your love light gon' glow

When your pain is released, and your love will increase
And the power will show, and your love light gon' glow
When the pain is released, and your love will increase
And the power will show, and your love light gon' glow...
