

Marie Antoinette

Curved Air

your name's a legend
in this land
treasure for your pleasure bestowed on favoured gentleman the people are in arms marching on the town
they rise -
changing revolution!
"Vive la Nation!"

Marie Antoinette
your shadow's falling
along the land
anger born of hunger
poisons the hearts of your loyal men fire in their eyes
steel in their hands
they rise -
changing revolution!
"Vive la Nation!"

Clamouring in the square the rabble have gone insane they're over the balustrades defying the cannon fire they're into the garrison they murder the noble man
Marie - Antoinette
Marie - Antoinette

We are the people of France
We demand that the elegant blue-blooded leeches that bleed us are taught what it means to grow fat and not feed us we are the people of France
you must heed us

Already at the Bastille the prisoners all run free they're hammering on the door
Marie Antoinette
they've taken the guillotine they're coming to take the Queen Marie Antoinette
the King and the guards have fled...

Marie Antoinette
your shadow's falling
along the land
anger born of hunger
poisoned your men
they rise -
changing revolution!

"Vive la Nation!"
