Lately feel like everything I do is hurting everybody
Tell me again it's kind of hard to hear you through the worry
And all I wanted was to tell you how I feel
All I needed was your arms around me

To forget for just a moment we're not making any money
It isn't normal to be living where its always sunny
And all I want is just a handle on the wheel
All I need is gonna take so slowly

I can't let go, I can't let go, I can't let go, I can't let go

I'm scaring me now
Know that you saw me teeth out
Spinning in circles, might pounce
What did I warn you about

I can't hang out I'm floored inside, and I'm Building a case against my life with White knuckles on a stationary bike
A million ways to hear me cry

I can't let go, I can't let go, I can't let go, I can't let go

Lately feel like everything I do is hurting everybody
Tell me again it's kind of hard to hear you through the worry
And all I wanted was to tell you how I feel
All I needed was your arms around me

To forget for just a moment we're not making any money
It isn't normal to be living where its always sunny
And all I want is just a handle on the wheel
All I need is gonna take so slowly

Oh... my
Hold... tight

I can't let go
(Why did the summer ruin me)
I can't let go
(Why cant I just be happy)
I can't let go
(Feel like you see right through me)
I can't let go
(Off the grid finally)
