

Angel

CYN

You're an angel, you're an angel
I go to leave and then you put on your halo

I can't tell what's real or who you are
Is this peaking?
Have we hit the ceiling?
Feeling like you only start a war to fight a dove
It's just your thing
You're gonna cause a scene and

Then say sorry, sorry, sorry, sorry
When I'm giving up
All of a sudden you're like a new person
The second you think that I'm done

You're an angel, you're an angel
I go to leave and then you put on your halo
You're an angel, you're an angel
You get committed like you heard it from the gods

One second you're here and then you're gone
I can't even with this
In between and
Don't know why you do this to the one you love
It's like routine
You're gonna get so mean and

Then say sorry, sorry, sorry, sorry
When I'm giving up
All of a sudden you're like a new person
The second you think that I'm done

You're an angel, you're an angel
I go to leave and then you put on your halo
You're an angel, you're an angel
You get committed like you heard it from the gods

Push my buttons 'til I run
You're an angel, you're an angel
Test my limits 'til I'm done
You're an angel, you're an angel

You're an angel, you're an angel
I go to leave and then you put on your halo
You're an angel, you're an angel
You get committed like you heard it from the gods

Push my buttons 'til I run
You're an angel, you're an angel
Test my limits 'til I'm done
You're an angel, you're an angel
