

Growing Up

CYN

It's 6 am and you're awake
I barely get any sleep these days
You need me now, don't wanna wait
Got a lot of questions on that brain
Every day is not a walk in the park
Sometimes you'll feel like you're lost in the dark
No matter how the pieces fall
It serves unconditional

So break some glass, come home late
Say some things that you don't mean
It's okay, make mistakes, misbehave

As long as you say sorry when you hurt somebody
It's better to be patient when you've got something new to learn
And fearlessly be honest when you love somebody
And promise me, you'll take your time when it comes to growing up
Promise me, you'll take your time when it comes to growing up

Every year we mark the wall
You won't always be this small
And if you need some help to reach
I'll lift you up where you can see
Anytime you can call
It serves unconditional

So run away, spill your drink
Say somethings you don't mean
It's okay, make mistakes, misbehave

As long as you say sorry when you hurt somebody
It's better to be patient when you've got something new to learn
And fearlessly be honest when you love somebody
And promise me, you'll take your time when it comes to growing up
Promise me, you'll take your time when it comes to growing up

I promise to say sorry when I hurt you
It's better to be patient when I've got something new to learn
I fearlessly be honest 'cause I love you
Just promise me, you'll take your time when it comes to growing up
Promise me, you'll take your time when it comes to growing up
