Grab a Hold

Cyndi Lauper

Going to make a confession Going to hope that you listen I'm not a story you've read about I'm just what I am And when you open your eyes up In the morning you rise up Wash yesterday form your face And make a new plan

Oh it's my fascination with the anticipation

If you want to grab a hold If you want to grab a hold If you want to grab a hold Let it go...

I'm going to write down a letter And maybe some day you'll get it And know what I meant to say And make it ok And if ya look at my picture You know the one on your dresser And if you think that you see a frown Turn me upside down

Why don't you use your imagination? Make it what you have to make it

If you want to grab a hold... Let it go...

You get your grip, I'll hold you up. Just reach with your hand And then use your imagination Make it want you have to make it

If you want to grab a hold... Let it go...
