

Ain't You

D Smoke

Ain't no reason we should complicate what we started, love
It's as simple as a conversation, you can start it up
Don't want it if it ain't you
Don't want it if it ain't you

Uh, don't want no imitation
That real'll have you open up without no limitations
That good'll have her showing up without an invitation
But if it's good, go 'head and throw her on that dinner plate and Begin to talk to her, the author of the storyline
The moral lies beneath her inner thighs
Go 'head and tiptoe over borderlines
Quarterback the play, keep me organized
And when you feeling strong, you don't wait long to say we fortified
Forty-five minutes it took to make you this dinner
In forty-five minutes, I bake a cake in your center
Them corny guys never gon' hesitate to use flattery as the bait
But they batteries gon' deflate like Ms. Jenner
That's why I love who you are
I love who you ain't, you're far from a saint
You're more like a star
To you, a mile is more like a yard
I'd rather walk a thousand miles with you than roll like a car
It's just that simple when you built like we are
We are, Supa

Ain't no reason we should complicate what we started, love
It's as simple as a conversation, you can start it up
Don't want it if it ain't you
Don't want it if it ain't you (Listen)

It's important we communicate
These moments feeling familiar, probably 'cause you relate
I get off at work at 4, you get off at 8, overtime
To get to cul-de-sac, it's a forty-five, a quarter 9
We arrive, borderline dyin' from operatin'
Overdrive, still always find time for copulation
Cop a feel, and skip your ones only if ovulation
Is probable, and maybe later, of a baby, we can go half, uh
Remember when I asked you if I passed you and never spoke up
Do you think we would last or be too bashful
To go from complete strangers to people havin' see-through feelings?
Equal admirations on our back, enjoying see-through ceilings
Sky is the limit, I just hired a dentist
'Cause you sweet enough to cause cavities
Even though the both of us happen to be well off
And more often, we're independent
We toast to making good decisions, here's to new beginnings

Ain't no reason we should complicate this, love
It's as simple as a conversation, love
Because it ain't you
Don't want it if it ain't you