Moon

Dada

The night before the moon died You realized The flowers that you picked And kept locked away

Were never to be seen

By naked lovers' eyes

The night before the moon died

You realized

You had a chance to make it right But you never did Take your car right out of gear Send it over the sea

Touch your fingers to the water Put your hands to your face The night before the moon died You realized

You had your chance To make it right You had your chance To change your mind

You had your chance To save your life But you never did
