

Hit 'em High Hit 'em Low Don Flamingo

Daggermouth

Something has got to change because this isn't real.
and I know that you can't possibly know how I feel.
Time and time again you let me down
now why am I your friend.
This time it ends.
Lets not pretend.

Everything you say is bullshit and I hate you.
Will you look me in the eyes
when I smack you down to size.

Here we go again; lets hear it for my best friend.
What can I say? You don't deserve that girl anyway.
I should take her from you so you know how it feels to be betrayed
I don't need you.
But you still call me.
You're so pathetic
I hate your face.

Now I wish that I had never even met you.
A year wasted with you I feel so empty.
And now you ask me if I'll be there for you next year.
Today I don't care, I don't care
