

I'm catching all these feelings
Oh boy, you've got me flying through the ceiling
Wish you would tell me what you're thinking
If you drink about me on the weekend

I've never been the type to wear my heart on my sleeve
I'd rather sit in silence than go causing a scene

He gives me just enough to know I want in
A little taste of him that got me falling
If I get drunk enough then I might call him
Say, "This whole time, you're the only thing that's on my mind"

I'm catching all these feelings
Oh boy, you've got me flying through the ceiling
Wish you would tell me what you're thinking
If you drink about me on the weekend
Guess I
Don't mind
'Cause I'm flying through the ceiling
Oh boy, yeah, you've got me catching feelings

Oh, he started a fire and he don't even know
That I only leave the house so he can walk me home

He gives me just enough to know I want in
A little taste of him that got me falling
If I get drunk enough then I might call him
Say, "This whole time, you're the only thing that's on my mind"

I'm catching all these feelings
Oh boy, you've got me flying through the ceiling
Wish you would tell me what you're thinking
If you drink about me on the weekend
Guess I
Don't mind
'Cause I'm flying through the ceiling
Oh boy, yeah, you've got me catching feelings

Do you love me? Maybe
In my dreams, you've already saved me
You say, "I'm tired of waiting"
We leave the city and go sunset sailing

Do you love me? Maybe
In my dreams, you've already saved me
You say, "I'm tired of waiting"
We leave the city and go sunset sailing

Do you love me? Maybe
In my dreams, you've already saved me
You say, "I'm tired of waiting"
We leave the city and go sunset sailing

Do you love me? Maybe
In my dreams, you've already saved me
You say, "I'm tired of waiting"

We leave the city and go sunset sailing

Do you love me? Maybe

In my dreams, you've already saved me

You say, "I'm tired of waiting"

We leave the city and go sunset sailing