

In My Bones

Dagny

I feel like myself again
After four years of unlearning him, I let go
A clean cut from everything
Now I don't need anybody else to feel whole
To feel whole

So I'll just be by myself tonight
Leave the sound of the world outside
Just one body under the the covers
Took time, but I finally love her
For the first time in a long time, it feel right

It feels right in my body, in my soul, in my bones
Feels right when I walk myself back home
Leave and no one knows
Feels right in my body, in my bones
I ain't lonely, no
Just because my arms don't wanna be 'round nobody else but me
'Round nobody

It's high time to forgive myself
After four years of being hard as hell
I lean in
I lean in, I lean in, I lean in Fifteen hundred days of remembering
Quickly turns to forgetting him
'Cause I can't change a single thing, no

I'll be good by myself tonight
Leave the sound of the world outside
He moved on and now so should I
For the first time in a long time, it feels right

It feels right in my body, in my soul, in my bones
Feels right when I walk myself back home
Leave and no one knows
Feels right in my body, in my bones
I ain't lonely, no
Just because my arms don't wanna be 'round nobody

Feels right in my body, in my soul, in my bones
Feels right, no one asking when I'm home
Sleeping on my own
Yeah, it might be 2 a.m. alone, I ain't lonely though
Just because my arms don't wanna be 'round nobody else but me

Just one body under the covers
Took time but I finally love her, oh yeah
For the first time in a long time, it feels right

It feels right in my body, in my soul, in my bones
Feels right when I walk myself back home
Leave and no one knows
Feels right in my body, in my bones
I ain't lonely, no
Just because my arms don't wanna be 'round nobody else but me
'Round nobody

Just because my arms don't wanna be 'round nobody else but me
'Round nobody
Just because my arms don't wanna be 'round nobody else but me
'Round nobody

After four years of unlearning him, I let go
