

When I woke up you were gone
Always knew that we wouldn't last for long
I've been good at moving on
But the taste of your lips was a cherry bomb

How do you destroy somebody
Then go hang your laundry like it didn't happen...
How do I avoid your body
In a crowded room
With bloodshot eyes and
Black sunglasses

Let my tears fall down
Underneath my Ray Bans
Oh, I miss you now, but you don't get a second chance
Cuz I loved you like summer
There was no other
Now when I see you, I just look away
While my tears fall down
But you're never gonna know that

I could say we were too young
But I knew it was over before it begun
Like the world without the sun
I'll be chasing the season
Long after it's gone

Tryna pretend that I don't need you
When I need you
Am I all that tragic?
How do I avoid your body
In a crowded room
With bloodshot eyes and
Black sunglasses

Let my tears fall down
Underneath my Ray Bans
Oh, I miss you now, but you don't get a second chance
Cuz I loved you like summer
There was no other
Now when I see you, I just look away
While my tears falls down
But you're never gonna know that

Let my tears fall down
Underneath my Ray Bans
Oh, miss you now, but you don't get a second chance
Cuz I loved you like summer
There was no other
Now when I see you, I just look away
While my tears fall down
But you're never gonna know that
