

I paint my face with glitter in the morning light
I've been up all night
I've been up all night

It's just dirt on the kitchen floor cold as an icebox
Fingernails tapping to the radiator hum
Yell out loud at an old bowl of cereal
I'll clean up if anyone'll come
Took down all the paintings hung up on the wall
My room is so much better off if I don't get involved
I neglected my plants to prove I would Should've let the sun in, would've done us good

I paint my face with glitter in the morning light
I've been up all night, I've been up all night
I paint my face with glitter in the morning light
I've been up all night, I've been up all night

I'm just rotten to the core such a bore such a wannabe
Dressing for the thrill like a pill it's an armor guess I'm not a threat
Guess I'm not a threat
Night time lunatic the milk is turning sour
But I'd rather go dancing
With the woman in the mirror
There's a ringing in my ears

I paint my face with glitter in the morning light
I've been up all night, I've been up all night
I paint my face with glitter in the morning light
I've been up all night, I've been up all night

Dust off my piano keys
And I play a lullaby
Put myself to sleep
In the morning light

Dust off my piano keys (I paint my face with glitter in the morning light)
And I play a lullaby (I've been up all night)
Put myself to sleep (I've been up all night)
In the morning light

I'm just rotten to the core such a bore such a wannabe (I paint my face with glitter in the)
Dressing for the thrill like a pill (Morning light)
It's an armor guess I'm not a threat (I've been up all night)
Guess I'm not a threat (I've been up all night)

I paint my face with glitter in the morning light
I've been up all night, I've been up all night
I paint my face with glitter in the morning light
I've been up all night, I've been up all night
