

Face in the Morning

Dala

Face in the morning, I'm glad that you stayed
I wish I had something, impressive to say
But I'm just a crazy girl waiting to smile
And you've just been waiting for me

If I could just, hold on
I could be happy with myself
If I could just, hold on
I could be happy with myself
If I could just, hold on

I love to make promises, when you're asleep
But I can't remember, which ones to keep
You stare at the stars, while I water the flowers
Will you be waiting for me?

If I could just, hold on
I could be happy with myself
If I could just, hold on
I could be happy with myself
If I could just, hold on
