

Some Things Never Change

Dallas Smith

A drunk girl's mood, the shape of the moon
That know it all teenage attitude
The price of gas, the price of smokes
Nah, they don't stay the same (Sure don't)
All the things that froze in time 'round here
We still go to church and then drink Beer
Some things do but some things never change (Nope)

We still light one up, we still raise some hell
We still show up drunk to somethin' thinkin' you can't tell
Keep a chain tucked in the truck bed
'Cause we're all stuck in our ways
We're livin' proof that some things never change
Like country songs and honky tonks
Red, white, and blue and Jesus saves
Thank God that some things never change

The SEC or ACC
How high you cut them cut off jeans
How good your truck is at pickin' up them FM waves
Oh, but as for us out in the sticks
You can't teach an old bird dog new tricks
It's okay that some things never change (No they don't)

We still light one up, we still raise some hell
We still show up drunk to somethin' thinkin' you can't tell
Keep a chain tucked in the truck bed
'Cause we're all stuck in our ways
We're livin' proof that some things never change
Like country songs and honky tonks
Red, white, and blue and Jesus saves
Thank God that some things never change, yeah

We still light one up, we still raise some hell
We still show up drunk to somethin' thinkin' you can't tell
Keep a chain tucked in the truck bed
'Cause we're all stuck in our ways
We're livin' proof that some things never change
Like country songs

We still light one up, we still raise some hell
We still show up drunk to somethin' thinkin' you can't tell
Keep a chain tucked in the truck bed
'Cause we're all stuck in our ways
We're livin' proof that some things never change
Like country songs and honky tonks
Red, white, and blue and Jesus saves
Thank God that some things never change