

Turn Back

Damage

Far Away

All my life I've been far away
Living thoughts and words that will never fray
I was living although I should change my fate
I'm cold, but inside I know I'm the same

And the dreams that we had
Will be lost along the way

I'm tied, but I'm still looking for my dreams
It seems hard, but nothing else wears my will Life goes on and before it shades comes
If it's worth it I'll just know when I get to the end

'Cos the dreams that we had
Will be lost along the way
And the reason to stand is the will to begin

What we left behind
Always seen a waste of time
To your twisted mind
Living in the past
You just hear and hide the facts
We are turning back
