The way you balance humility, girl, it's so tough

So fine, Gold Dust would've chose up

The city love me hard, got your partners nervous
Whenever we drinking, I leave your body jerking
Breakfast in bed 'cause I leave your body hurting
I bring flowers for you and that ain't my blood type
You never ask me for nothing and I be rubbed right
Got me feeling I probably could do the love life
And I finally be moving without the club nights

Look, this love is a sure thing
Your knight in shining armor, never would change
It might not last forever, that's a good thing
Girl, you remind me of your mama with them hood things
