

Pray

Dami Im

People rushing by, bright city lights
As I look down from my hotel room
Angry cars and lonely hearts
Guess they're tryna get home soon

Peel away the layers and the uniform
Take away the pride and all the ego
We bleed the same, we hurt the same
We hide behind our suit and ties and salaries
Drinking coffee charging up the battery
We're all the same

Hallelujah, hallelujah
Can we stop and take a breath?
Maybe we just need to pray
Hallelujah, hallelujah
When it's more than we can take
It's time for us to pray
Hallelujah

Jealousy and the vanity
It's all just an illusion
Tryna see through insanity
Lost in confusion

Peel away the layers and the uniform
Take away the pride and all the ego
We bleed the same, we hurt the same
We hide behind our suit and ties and salaries
Drinking coffee charging up the battery
We're all the same

Hallelujah, hallelujah
Can we stop and take a breath?
Maybe we just need to pray
Hallelujah, hallelujah
When it's more than we can take
It's time for us to pray
Hallelujah, hallelujah

If you're tired, if you're broken
If you're lonely and afraid
If you're crying, sick of trying
You're rejected and ashamed
Are you hiding, sick of fighting?
'Cause nobody seems to care
Everything will be okay
It's time for us to pray

Hallelujah, hallelujah
Hallelujah, hallelujah
Can we stop and take a breath?
Maybe we just need to pray
Hallelujah, hallelujah
When it's more than we can take
It's time for us to pray
Hallelujah, hallelujah

Oh, hallelujah, hallelujah
Hallelujah
