Angel Of May

Damien Jurado

It's getting hard to pay attention to you Always trying to work it out But a girl you love behind still hangs around She's always wondering when you'll come back

The fact is you, are not You will never at all The fact is, are not

It's getting hard to pay attention now
But a girl you love behind still comes around
She's always asking, "When will he return?"
I can give her no answer

The fact is you, are not You will never at all The fact is, are not You will never at all
