

Find Yourself

Dan Bremnes

You fight hard it's not enough
Lay down in the dust
Didn't wanna be here
Don't know who to be here

You stand up where do you go
And feel the heat in the cold
Changing with the seasons
Picking up the pieces

But if it's hard then it's beautiful
If it's rare it's a miracle
And if you're here then you gotta grow gotta grow
If you don't you'll never know

Until you find yourself
Until you find yourself
Sometimes you won't belong
But you know this life wasn't made for
Somebody else
It's your story to tell
Sometimes you'll have to run
From everyone else
To find yourself

If it moves fast
Take it slow
Lay back free flow
Everyday is fleeting
Don't forget to breathe in

'Cause this is life and it's beautiful
So don't give up 'cause you'll never know (never know)

Until you find yourself (find yourself)
Until you find yourself (find yourself)
Sometimes you won't belong (won't belong)
But you know this life wasn't made for
Somebody else (somebody else)
It's your story to tell (it's yours to tell)
Sometimes you'll have to run (have to run)
From everyone else
To find yourself

If you're here then it's beautiful
What you lost you can let it go
Don't give up when you're getting close, getting close
You're gonna find what you're looking for

If you're here then it's beautiful
What you lost you can let it go find yourself
Don't give up when you're getting close getting close
You're gonna find what you're looking for
Find yourself
