

Human

Dan Bremnes

Welcome here, you're human
Don't know how we do it
Heartbreak and the bruises
God help us keep moving

And we bleed, we laugh
We love, we cry
This is what it's like

To be human
To be human

If you're looking close, and if you trust
I know you'll find glitter in the dust
Don't be so hard on yourself it's hard enough
It's hard enough
To be human

Welcome to the new world
Stars are changing with every turn (stars are changing every turn)
And we're grasping through the chaos
To find a better way, even with a broken heart

And the void we feel
The peace we find
The never ending wars we fight
We're blind until we see the light
This is what it's like

To be human
To be human

If you're looking close, and if you trust
I know you'll find glitter in the dust
Don't be so hard on yourself it's hard enough
It's hard enough
It's hard enough
To be human
To be human

We build it up we tear it down
Yeah we're all lost, until we're found
We find a voice here in the crowd
Saying you know what it's like
To be human, yeah
We're all human

If you're looking close, and if you trust
I know you'll find glitter in the dust
Don't be so hard on yourself it's hard enough
It's hard enough, it's hard enough

To be human
To be human

If you're looking close, and if you trust

Don't be so hard on yourself it's hard enough

To be human
To be human
