

Live Again

Dan Bremnes

It's already come, it's already gone
And the pieces are what's left of this town
It's the last time 'round, It's the first time shout
And we wonder where to go from here

It's all been ready before time
It's all been ready to cross that line
It's all been ready and it's time...

To live again
We'll make it loud
We'll take the day
To make you proud

We're only one step away
We're only one step away
We're only one step away
From where we're meant to be

To live again
We'll make it loud
We'll take the day
To make you proud
