

The Way

Dan Bremnes

I used to think when the sun was shining
It was a sign that things were going right
I used to think that when my heart was breaking
It was a sure thing that you left my side
But now I see through the years
Through the joy and every tear

It's the way, the way
You're making me more like, making me more like
You each day
I see a little more of Your plan
You never let me go
Even when it hurts, I know
It's the way, the way, the way
You're making me like You

All the good things that I've been given
I didn't earn on my own, I'm living proof of Your grace
And every song that can wreck this heart
Won't break me down, won't tear me apart from You
You give me faith

It's the way, the way
You're making me more like, making me more like
You each day
I see a little more of Your plan
You never let me go
Even when it hurts, I know
It's the way, the way, the way
You're making me like You

Everything that I thought I wanted
I don't always get
But I got Your promise
You give me just what I need
You open my eyes to see that it's the way
The way

It's the way, the way
You're making me more like, making me more like
You each day
I see a little more of Your plan
You never let me go
Even when it hurts, I know
It's the way, the way, the way
You're making me like You

Making me like You
Oh, You're making me like You, yeah
You're making me like You
Oh I love the way, yeah
I love the way You're making me like You
