

Weakness

Dan Bremnes

There's a song caught in my throat
There's a prayer caught in my lungs
There's a wound I can't contain
There's a healing yet to come

It's been a long time in the fight
It's been a long time in the dark
So much I wanna change
I just don't know how to start

So gimme just a minute, I know I can beat this
Gimme just a minute, I am more than my weakness
Oh, I'm holding onto hope as I'm letting go
So gimme just a minute, I know I can beat this
I am more than my weakness

There's a light just up ahead
There's a way to find my home
There's a race I've almost won
There's a life to call my own

It's been a long time in the fight
It's been a long time in the dark
So much I wanna change
I just don't know how to start

So gimme just a minute, I know I can beat this
Gimme just a minute, I am more than my weakness
Oh, I'm holding onto hope as I'm letting go
So gimme just a minute, I know I can beat this
I am more than my weakness

It's been a long time in the fight, whoa
It's been a long time in the dark
So gimme just a minute, so gimme just a minute

So gimme just a minute, I know I can beat this
Gimme just a minute, I am more than my weakness
Oh, I'm holding onto hope as I'm letting go
So gimme just a minute, I know I can beat this
I am more than my weakness
