

Where The Light Is

Dan Bremnes

This is me
I grew up in church
Raised on the gospel, trained in the Word
Had a faith so fearless
Thought it was all I needed
But life hit me hard, more than I planned
And it knocked me down, like an avalanche
On the edge of hopeless, I called You from the darkness

God, come quickly, only You can save me
Will You lead me where the light is?
God be with me, don't know where I'm going
Will You lead me where the light is?
I've been living in the dark, I've been looking for daylight
You're my daylight
So God, come quickly, only You can save me
And lead me where the light is

There's no hurt
No scar or bruise
There's not a wound too deep for You
'Cause You're everything You say You are
And You're bigger than a broken heart
So hear me now, hear me now, I'm calling

God, come quickly, only You can save me
Will You lead me where the light is?
God be with me, don't know where I'm going
Will You lead me where the light is?
I've been living in the dark, I've been looking for daylight
You're my daylight
So God, come quickly, only You can save me
And lead me where the light is

When I'm lost in the night
When I'm losing the fight
Lead me where the light is
When the tears fill my eyes
When the hope's hard to find
Lead me where the light is

God, come quickly, only You can save me
Will You lead me where the light is?
God be with me, don't know where I'm going
Will You lead me where the light is?
I've been living in the dark, I've been looking for daylight
You're my daylight
So God, come quickly, only You can save me
And lead me where the light is

When I'm lost in the night
When I'm losing the fight
Lead me where the light is
When the tears fill my eyes
When the hope's hard to find
Lead me where the light is
