

Your Strength

Dan Bremnes

When everything is over my head
When I've given it all and I've got nothing left
When it feels like I can barely run
Oh it feels like I can barely run
When darkness comes and forces me down
When sorrow's sting is all around
When it feels like I'm the only one
Oh it feels like I'm the only one

Your strength is all I need
And Your grace it covers me
And Your face is all I see
And Your hands they rescue me

When everything is over my head
When I've given it all and I've got nothing left
When it feels like I can barely run
Yeah, feels like I can barely run
When darkness comes and forces me down
When sorrow's sting is all around
When it feels like I'm the only one, yeah
It feels like I'm the only one

Your strength is all I need
And Your grace it covers me
And Your face is all I see
And Your hands they rescue me

Oh, You lift me up again
And You give me strength to win

Your strength is all I need
And Your grace it covers me
And Your face is all I see
And Your hands they rescue me

Your strength is all I need
And Your grace it covers me
And Your face is all I see
And Your hands they rescue me
