

Tokyo

Dan Croll

I break down inside
Every time that I see you've arrived
Somehow you crossed the line
Travelling faster than you ever inclined

I try my best to look away, but
I can't believe why you tell me what I should say
Meanwhile, others scream jealousy
Telling me to take a seat
And watch you as you take on it all
But you were scared to fall

No, I've never been to Tokyo
Never made my inhibitions, no
Don't look kindly on the things you do
From my enigmatic point of view
No, I've never been to Tokyo
Never made my inhibitions, no
Don't look kindly on the things you do
From my enigmatic point of view, view

I try my best to look away, but
I can't believe why you tell me what I should say
Meanwhile, others scream jealousy
Telling me to take a seat
And watch you as you take on it all
But you said to fall

No, I've never been to Tokyo
Never made my inhibitions, no
Don't look kindly on the things you do
From my enigmatic point of view
No, I've never been to Tokyo
Never made my inhibitions, no
Don't look kindly on the things you do
From my enigmatic point of view, view

No, I've never been to Tokyo
Never made my inhibitions, no
Don't look kindly on the things you do
From my enigmatic point of view
No, I've never been to Tokyo
Never made my inhibitions, no
Don't look kindly on the things you do
From my enigmatic point of view, view, view