

Something More

Dan Hill

Do you believe there's a reason for everything?
Do we live in a wing and a prayer?
I like to think something's greater out there

Somewhere beyond where the sky meets horizon
There's gotta be more here than what meets the eye
When I lie down with you falling in shades of blue
It's like we've met long before
Your touch, open the door
Deep in my heart, I believe
There's something more

Do you believe that a power exists
Beyond what we see here and now? Oh
The look in your eyes makes me wonder somehow

Somewhere beyond where the sky meets horizon
There's gotta be more here than what meets the eye
When I lie down with you falling in shades of blue
It's like we've met long before
Your touch, open the door
Deep in my heart, I believe
There's something more

Let's go crazy and reach for the stars
Baby, we've come so close, yeah we're so far apart
Wanna know everything that you are

Somewhere beyond where the sky meets horizon
There's gotta be more here than what meets the eye

Somewhere beyond where the sky meets horizon
There's gotta be more here than what meets the eye
When I lie down with you falling in shades of blue
It's like we've met long before
Your touch, open the door
Deep in my heart, I believe
There's something more
It's like we've met long before
Your touch, open the door
Deep in my heart, I believe
There's something more

Do you believe there's a reason for everything?