

Never Quiet

Dan Mangan

Lost in a dream
Lost and it's hanging over everything
And everyone you happen to meet
Happy to hate it if it's threatening
Filling up the room with nothing

You may be silent but you're never quiet
You may be silent but you're never quiet

First time is free
How they create the pain and offer the ease
What a mighty good company
Cater to me until I'm out on the street
Like a noble savage junkie

You may be silent but you're never quiet
You may be silent but you're never quiet

Hang your red roses 'round my neck
And I will think of you
Uncertainty, all Greek to me
Maybe that's how it should be
Who the hell knows anything?
My mind races to the final ending
What a complicated partner

You may be silent but you're never quiet
You may be silent but you're never quiet
