

Home Alone

Dan Talevski

Since you've been gone, it's feels like forever
I still can't believe we ain't together
Ever since you left the city, I've been Feelin' like we went through this for nothing

Baby, you're my everything
This ain't the way it should be
Remember getting so high
Clothes off on the bed side
I just want you next to me

I'm home alone
Drinking the night away, missing you
There's nothing I won't do
You don't know how bad I've been needing you
Can you forgive me, babe? Sorry for the things I did
I never meant to hurt you
Cause I'm home alone
Drinking the night, away missing you
Drinking the night, away missing you
Drinking the night, away missing you
Can you forgive me, babe? Sorry for the things I did
I never meant to hurt you
Cause I'm home alone
'Drinking the night, away missing you

Nothing's been the same since you left here
Why can't it just be like it was last year
I'm hoping you really haven't moved on
'Cause I need you in my life for the long run

Baby, you're my everything
This ain't the way it should be
Remember getting so high
Clothes off on the bed side
I just want you next to me

I'm home alone
Drinking the night away, missing you
There's nothing I won't do
You don't know how bad I've been needing you
Can you forgive me, babe? Sorry for the things I did
I never meant to hurt you
Cause I'm home alone
Drinking the night, away missing you (missing you)
Drinking the night, away missing you ('Drinking the night, away)
Drinking the night, away missing you
Can you forgive me, babe? Sorry for the things I did
I never meant to hurt you
Cause I'm home alone
'Drinking the night, away missing you
