

Caroline

dandelion hands

I know that you don't think about me too much
And we can never hang out and such
But all this time apart it made me want to start
To maybe fall for you

I know there's other boys out there
All breathing out jersey air
They're all a ton cuter than me
Wish there was something you could see in me

I've read all the books
And saw all the shows
But nothing could teach me the words to say
I want you more and more everyday
I know it's strange but please just let me say
Caroline
Oh how I miss you

Deep in the back of my head
I don't know why
But I see your eyes your smile
I know I'm just a boy
The last one on your mind
And I don't know why you're on mine all the time

I've read all the books
And saw all the shows
But nothing could teach me the words to say
I want you more and more everyday
I know it's strange but please just let me say
Caroline
Oh how I need you
