

Don't Break My Heart Again

Danger Danger

How many times do I have to get hurt, how many tears can I cry, forgive and forget that's what you always said, just like some warriors lie.

When I made some mistakes that I like to forget, and I won't even try to pretend, but you're one mistake that I don't wanna make,
and I swear this wouldn't happen' again.

You won one more dance,
just one more chance,
if I live my love on the lie.

Don't break my heart again, no,
don't break my heart again, no,
can't play that part again
and I never wanna do,
don't break my heart again...

Now my world is so empty without you since you left me and painted in black and the rain outside my window is hangin' run and won't go,
'Til the day you'll come back.

No it ain't that easy, but I swallowed my pride, I lay my love on the line.

Don't break my heart again, no,
don't break my heart again, no,
can't play that part again
and I never wanna do,
don't break my heart again...

I couldn't take that anymore, I'm still healing from the wound you left before, you know the scars were deep, but not as deep as my love for you...
Yeah!! You cuts right through!!

!!!!!!Lead guitar!!!! (rock'on!)

Don't break my heart again, no,
don't break my heart again, no,
can't play that part again
and I never wanna do...

You won one more dance,
just one more chance,
if I live my love on the lie.

Don't break my heart again, no,
don't break my heart again, no,
can't play that part again,
don't break my heart again, no,

don't break my heart again, no...

Don't break my heart again.....
