Dangerkids

Yeah, I've got nowhere left to hide,
No time left for a compromise,
Do I push back harder than I have before?
Or just fall if I can't decide?
That danger is real, I feel it all the time,
So I wear it in the name to remind me why
Everything I gave up or I left behind
Just to be where I am tonight, yeah.
But you can't touch me, I can't be touched,
You can't hold me, the weight's too much.
You can't buy me, I have no price,
I have no backup, I have no crutch,
One last attempt, all-out attack.
And if you push me, I'll push you back,
And should I fall, you'll go down with me
Make sure you remember that.

Do you have what it takes to loosen the vice?
You live the excuse but it comes with a price.
If you've got nothing at all,
You've got nothing to lose.
If you're too scared to choose,
Then what are you waiting for?

There's nothing left inside of me,
'Cause I've given everything.
You see it in my eyes,
I'm ready to die, I'm ready to die for this!

So give me your worst!

You have to decide what sets you apart,
If passion is dead or defines who you are,
You can forgive, but never forget,
If you're scared of the scars then you're already dead,
You're already dead!

There's nothing left inside of me,
'Cause I've given everything.
You see it in my eyes,
I'm ready to die, I'm ready to die for this!
So, so say the worst thing, the worst thing you can say to me.
So say the worst thing, the worst thing you can say to me.

This is what it all comes down to,
You either bend or you break.
Will you destroy what destroys you?
If you give it all up they can't take it away.
This is what it all comes down to,
You either bend or you break.
Will you destroy what destroys you?
If you give it all up they can't take it away.

(What are you waiting for?)
There's nothing left inside of me,
'Cause I've given everything.
You see it in my eyes,

I'm ready to die, I'm ready to die for this!
So, so say the worst thing, the worst thing you can say to me.
