

Please Do Not Lean

Daniel Caesar

Sweet Emily, my bride, to be Just how long will you stand next to me?
For we both know, it's more than a load
For you to bear
It'd break my heart but I'd understand if you'd Leave me for another man with a little Less on his mind, less on his plate
Less in his brain

Please do not lean on me, I'm unstable
You're all you need, I've seen it, you're able
Please do not lean on me, I'm unstable
You're all you need, I've seen it, you're able

Sex in the air, deep in despair
Could you please act like you're unaware?
But we both know I'm just a dog chasin' his bone Please understand, I'm just a man that's nearly figured out his master plan
Just stick around and you gon' see
Worth every pound

Please do not lean on me, I'm unstable
You're all you need, I've seen it, you're able
Please do not lean on me, I'm unstable
You're all you need, I've seen it, you're able

The more that we both try to fight it
The harder it's gon' be
I wish that we could stand united, instead we're crumblin'
I know that you gon' always love me
In spite of things you've seen
In spite of things you've heard me say
No matter how obscene
If I am the sky, you are the sea
Starin' back at me, at me
If I am the sky, you are the sea
Starin' back at me, at me
If I am the sky, you are the sea
Starin' back at me, at me

If I am the sky, you are the sea
Starin' back at me, at me
