

Rearrange My World

Daniel Caesar

Rearrange my world the way you do
Rearrange my world the way you do
Rearrange my world the way you do

Can we walk until I know who I am?
I live above a bar I've never been
I think about you more than I can spend

Apartments rising, but my rent is fixed
If you don't find somewhere, you can move in
I'll trade all of your things for all my things

My mother called me in the early afternoon
Couldn't hear her yelling while I was watching you
I told her that I loved her
The way I tell you

Can you rearrange my world the way you do?
Can you rearrange my world the way you do?
Can you rearrange my world the way you do?

The people keep moving farther
Something's in the air
In light your hair changes colours
You can tell me what to wear
You know me well
It's almost like you love me, I can tell
I'm catching up to what you know
Don't go upstate before it snows
I won't tell you what burdens me
I'll wait until the end of week
I'll fold
What are you thinking alone?
Where are you thinking to go?
Is there room on the road?

My mother called me in the early afternoon
Couldn't hear her yelling while I was watching you
I told her that I loved her
The way I tell you

Can you rearrange my world the way you do?
Can you rearrange my world the way you do?
Can you rearrange my world the way you do?
