

Sometimes it feels like it's a dream
Everything is not as it seems
If only I could find a pair of glasses
To help me see the ones that who truly be
They live, and we sleep
Pray my days will never hit one

Take me far away from the sun
If only I could find a way through space-time
Back to when I was happy being me
They live and leave

I can hear the bells ringing, reminding us why
We're still here singing, it's Father Time
Stuck in this matrix
Living a lie
I'm not afraid to die

Take me back to 2014
Saw a pic this morning
Far along the journey
The future was alluring

On the other side of TVs
Hoping that they see me
But they already see me
At least, that's how I see things

Isn't it funny how the time flies?
Like a G5 jet in turbulence
But we gonna make it home tonight, alright, alright
Alright, alright

My misery is boring
Finally feel confident
Yes, that's an accomplishment
Many more commas to get

I can hear the bells ringing, reminding us why
We're still here singing, it's Father Time
Stuck in this matrix
Living a lie
I'm not afraid to die

You know it's Stockholm, long road, London, you can't even reach me
Just know whenever you need me, we'll figure it out
Look up, and you'll see me, and I'll be around
'Cause when I'm home, I'm lost, let's go
Make it look easy
Oh, take it easy on me
It's still my city, it's still my city
