

Mansions

Daniel Johns

I've been looking at the mansions from another hill
No one will die and no one gets killed
I've been searching for the answer, taking all the pills
Treat it like candy, whatever it fills

I've been looking at the mansions from another hill
No one would die if no one gets killed
I've been searching for the answer, taking all the pills
Treat it like candy, whatever it fills

I been
Can't stop breathing
Won't stop trying
Best friends calling
I never really talk but I believe in you

I've been holding onto something I know I'm gonna spill
I wish I could cry for something that's real
When everything is nothing, I care about you still Definitely maybe, I'm the king of the hill

We can go to sleep, dancing in the street
I just want to bleed drowning in the beat in a
Strange shower, brother
Big tower, brother
Love one another, oh, I been

Can't stop breathing
Won't stop trying
Best friends calling
I never really talk but I believe in you

Don't stop dreaming
Can't stop crying
Now I'm looking for something that reminds me if I'm free
I wonder if we need another remedy?

Why are we waiting for a miracle?
When you gonna come to your senses?

Can't stop breathing
Won't stop trying
Best friends calling
I never really talk but I believe in you

Don't stop dreaming
Can't stop crying
Now I'm looking for something that reminds me if I'm free
I wonder if we need another remedy?

Strange shower, brother
Big tower, brother
Love one another

Strange shower, brother
Big tower, brother

Strange shower, brother
Love one another

Now I'm looking for something reminds me if I'm free
I wonder if we need another remedy?
