

Blue Cloud

Daniel Johnston

When you don't have nothin' to do
Go downtown, see what's happening at the zoo
When you're right in the middle of a crowd
And you want to just yell out loud
Then you do

When you're looking out a window
And you're dreaming on a cloud
Don't you ever feel like
You just want to yell out loud?

When you're thinking about nothing
But it's something--you don't know what it is
And when you're smiling at the sky
Don't you ever wonder why?

And there's a lot of things to see
There's a lot of friends to have
