

Heart Mind & Soul

Daniel Johnston

I thought I had it so bad.
I didn't realize how much I relied on you.

More than just a memory,
More like a feelin'.
I'd remember every time,
Anytime I needed it.
And I needed it more
Than I could have imagined
Cause this feelin' went deep
In my mind, my heart, and my soul.

But late one night
I stumbled by the home,
Cursing awful things
Hope she didn't hear me.
Oh, but I think she did,
As I hug my new found sorrow.
Oddly, it gives me strength
In my mind, my heart, and my soul.

Sorry.
I'm sorry

My heart sank with the moon
On that horrible walk
All alone by the drive in.
And the night stood still
While lovers entwined
On the screen on the hill
I knew somethin' had happened
In my mind, my heart and my soul.

That little grin,
It meant so much.
So sad, it's so sad
If it don't grin for me no more.
But I hope you know better.
I didn't mean what I was saying.
But its a fool that says
I was only joking
In my mind, my heart, and my soul.

Don't you mind me
If switch from first to the second person.
I'm mixed up. I don't know
Who I'm talking to.
Oh, but somethin's missin'.
I hope I can bring it back.
It's somethin' that I lack
In my mind, my heart, and my soul.

I'm sorry.
sorry.
I'm sorry
