

Scrambled Eggs

Daniel Johnston

No one got the joke I made
Somehow i felt betrayed
You were the one I loved
You were the one, snow white angle dove

No one got the joke I made
Maybe they were just afraid
No one understood the part I played
No one understood a word I said
You were the one I loved
You were the one with eyes that understood it all ba dum mmm da whoa

No one knew the pain I felt
No, not even you
No one knew the joy it was
No one had a clue
But you came awful close
You knew more than anyone ever did
Most of what i tried to keep in

No one ever smiled at me
Like the way you smiled at me
When i saw your picture in the paper
I just couldn't believe it
You were wearing that smile
That i thought was for me alone
You were the one I loved
You were the one, snow white angle dove

No one liked the song I sang
No one liked the chords I banged
No one liked the story I made up
No one liked the joke I made

Goodbye goodbye, sweet dreams
Goodbye goodbye to my team

I only got a slight hint
Of all that we missed
When we kissed

You were the one I loved
You were the one with eyes that understood it all

No one got the joke I made
