

at the end of the world

Daniel Leggs

Shot on sight by you
I stood there in your aim
Too scared to engage Thought you'd see right through
Would you look at me the same
At the end of the world

If a comet strikes tonight
And the whole world is on fire
At the final stance
Would there be a chance
If the stars fall from the sky
And we are the lone survivors
Would you take my hand
Would you save this dance for me

If it's our last chance
Would you save this dance for me

God your eyes are blue
Tell me when to wake up now
Tell me when to wake up now
Won't you love me too
Would you look at me changed
At the end of the world

If a comet strikes tonight
And the whole world is on fire
At the final stance
Would there be a chance
If the stars fall from the sky
And we are the lone survivors
Would you take my hand
Would you save this dance for me

If it's our last chance
Would you save this dance for me
If it's our last chance
Would you save this dance for me
