

last one standing

Daniel Leggs

I'm not cool and I'm not handsome, I'm a mess
And I know demons who keep secrets on my chest
Thought of leaving all this hurt behind
I'll admit a time or two
But that was all 'til I met you
Now I

I take it all, oh I take it all back now
Darlin that you see me
I'll break your fall, baby I'll be your backbone
If you ever need me
Been waiting long for a little distraction
Oh, to stop the bleeding
But since you came along, I'll give you my last breathe
You'll be the last one standing

Ahhh
You'll be the last one standing
Won't ever let you go

There is no sadness in the presence of your fame
It wasn't happenstance that I was reckless without your embrace
Used to get caught pleading for a better life
A brand new piano for my blues
But it was dark and out of tune
That was all 'til I met you
Now I

I take it all, oh I take it all back now
Darlin that you see me
I'll break your fall, baby I'll be your backbone
If you ever need me
Been waiting long for a little distraction
Oh, to stop the bleeding
But since you came along, I'll give you my last breathe
You'll be the last one standing

Ahhh
You'll be the last one standing
Won't ever let you go
You'll be the last one standing
