

Indivisible

Daniel Merriweather

Tell me why the match don't spark
Tell me why this bridge ain't burning
Do you ever really think it's luck
And do you really think we're learning
Tell me why the stars align Tell me who we all are serving
Do you wonder if it's us that drive
Or is it just the wheel that's turning
Round and round and round and round
And round and round and round

Are we indivisible, one plus one is one
Are we indestructible like atoms from the sun
Is our time here memorable like fragments of
A song
And when the sky is falling, tell me there's nothing wrong

Can I be you wheel that turns
Can I be your blinding mirror
Shadows of a broken heart
Only make it that much clearer
Could you be my northern lights
In a city where we all are veering
Do you wonder if it's us that drive, or is it just the wheel th at's steering
Round and round and round and round and round and round and rou nd

Are we indivisible, one plus one is one
Are we indestructible like atoms from the sun
Is our time here memorable like fragments of a song
And when the sky is falling tell me there's nothing wrong

Tell me there's nothing wrong
Tell me there's nothing wrong
Tell me there's nothing wrong
Tell me there's nothing wrong
Tell me there's nothing wrong
Tell me there's nothing wrong...
