Danielle Bradbery

Like a lotus flower growing in the dirt Ain't nobody ever noticed what its worth Til the sun shines and the rain falls and In no time it all is beautiful

This is my day, this is my day
Ohhhh, wont let it slip away
Oh, waiting for these changes to say, this is my day

There's a voice inside that's trying to be heard, hmmm

And its echoing across the universe

If you listen it'll lead you to that place you've always been running to

This is my day, this is my day
Ohhhh, wont let it slip away
Oh, I'm waiting for these changes to say, this is my day

I always saw it coming
A little light behind the clouds
This is the start of something
My heart believes it now

This is my day, this is my day
Oh, wont let it slip away
Oh, this is my day, this is my day
Oh, wont let it slip away
Oh, I'm waiting for these changes to say
This is my day, this is my day, ohhh

Like a lotus flower growing in the dirt
