

Raise Some Hell

Danko Jones

What we got brewing gonna make the news
Got sick of sitting at home, singing the blues
Let's start a fire, if it makes some sense
I'm tired of watching it go by, sitting on the fence

Tonight is the night when we get to rebel
When the finger pulls the trigger and the clock strikes 12
The truth hits the table and the gavel breaks the spell
We'll all feel the heat and hear the ringing of the bell

Let's go raise some hell
Never gonna say sorry, never gonna get well
Let's go raise some hell
'Cause sooner or later we're gonna break the spell

It gives me a shiver when you look inside the box
The truth doesn't matter when you're crazy like a fox
I don't care how you look, I don't care how you sound
We gotta be all in when it all goes down

They shooting the players, the makers taking the paper
I don't care anymore, you can call me an agitator
I think everyone is sipping the Kool-Aid that's going round
Nobody cares, nobody thinks of sticking round so

Let's go raise some hell
Never gonna say sorry, never gonna get well
Let's go raise some hell
'Cause sooner or later we're gonna break the spell

Let me jump into the fire
Fan the flames make 'em go higher
I ain't scared of nothing
Hey Jack, get back, cut me some slack

Let's go raise some hell
Never gonna say sorry, never gonna get well
Put it on the table, get it on the shelves
'Cause sooner or later we're gonna break the spell

Let's go raise some hell (Let's go raise some hell)
Let's go raise some hell (Let's go raise some hell)
Let's go raise some hell (Let's go raise some hell)
Let's go raise some hell (Let's go raise some hell)
