

Ran Away

Danny Fernandes

I remember when you said you'd never leave
All those lies that you told to me
Girl it's alright, baby it's alright
All that's left is a broken memory
Of a girl that turned her back on me
It's alright, baby it's alright

I don't need your love
I don't want your heart
I don't want your love
I don't need your love
I don't want your heart
I don't want your love

Please don't worry, I've forgotten
You know I can't remember names
And the faces always fade
Don't worry I'm not sorry
I've forgotten everything you said to me back then
The day you ran away, ran away, ran away
The day you ran away, ran away, ran away
You ran away

Do you think that you'll find another me?
Do you think that you'll find someone like me?
Alright, alright
Baby it's alright, baby it's alright
When you've done your search come look for me
When you've done your search come back to me
Alright, alright
Baby it's alright, baby it's alright

I don't need your love
I don't want your heart
I don't want your love
I don't need your love
I don't want your heart
I don't want your love

Please don't worry, I've forgotten
You know I can't remember names
And the faces always fade
Don't worry I'm not sorry
I've forgotten everything you said to me back then
The day you ran away, ran away, ran away
The day you ran away, ran away, ran away
You ran away

And you hurt me
And you hurt me
You desert me now
You desert me now
Every moment we're spending apart
Every moment we're spending apart
And you hurt me
And you hurt me
Girl you let me down

Girl you let me down
And you're running away with my heart
And you're running away with my heart
My heart

Please don't worry, I've forgotten
You know I can't remember names
And the faces always fade
Don't worry I'm not sorry
I've forgotten everything you said to me back then
The day you ran away, ran away, ran away
The day you ran away, ran away, ran away
You ran away

I remember when you said you'd never leave
All those lies that you told to me
Girl it's alright, baby it's alright
