Expandable Time

Danny Vera

You're so good like sugar
Good like wine
Good for making love all the time

You're so good like sugar
Good like wine
Good for making love all the time

You're so good,
I wish I knew how I could extend
Our expandable time
Our expandable time

I can remember, baby, how it was
Before I met you it just wasn't enough
I felt alone and thought that no one cared
Too sad for words and a waste of time
Drinking wine, oh, wine

You're so good like sugar
Good like wine
Good for making love all the time

You're so good,
I wish I knew how I could extend
Our expandable time
Our expandable time

Those days are gone and now you're finally here
And all the dark clouds seem to disappear
Your body makes me so high all the time
I lose myself in my disordered mind
Tell me why, oh, why

You're so good like sugar
Good like wine
Good for making love all the time
